My dear Mr Jermain

I have received the Cheque, for which I thank you, and am only sorry that it will never be in my power to make you any other return for all your kindness, than my most sincere gratitude

My son has just returned from Rome, and he tells me that today the 13th is appointed for the removal of the remains of poor Severn, to place him beside my dear brother. They will thus be united in death, as in life.

Louis is not able to explain to me the impediment that prevented his being interred in the same Cemetery immed=diately upon his decease.

I think, but I am not quite sure, that you told me you had received the Drama before leaving for Germany.

I sent it through the Spanish Embassy.

With kindest remembrances
from all my family,

I remain

Yours most sincerely

Fanny Coats de Lamar

I have received a letter from Mr Field, giving me a description of the ceremony in the Protestant Cemetery in Rome. I suppose you have read the letter in the Times upon the subject.

I am most sincerely grieved at the severe illness of Lord Houghton, which prevented him from going to Rome. His kindness to me, like yours, can never be forgotten.

Excuse these abrupt lines, for I am not quite well. With love to all your
